

Forth Report of Japan Doctoral Human Resource Profiling
table of errata

(Abstract)

Page	Line	Original text	Corrected text	Correction date
P12	3	(Figure in Abstract 16)	(Figure in Abstract 19)	2022/5/19
	3	Of students who had worked before beginning doctoral studies, 37.3% signified that they spent more than 1 h and less than 3 h on research, while 10.8% disclosed spending less than 1 h.	Of students who had worked before beginning doctoral studies, 37.3% signified that they spent more than 1 h and less than 3 h on research, while 10.8% disclosed spending less than 1 h (Figure in Abstract 18).
	8	(Figure in Abstract 17)	(Figure in Abstract 19)

(Part II Main Results)

Page	Line	Original text	Corrected text	Correction date
P29	4	(Figure 6-24)	(Figure 6-31)	2022/5/19
	4	sociology (1.8%)	sociology (2.4%)
	5	(Figure 6-31)	(Figure 6-32)
P48	12	(3.6%)	(6.6%)	2022/5/19
P51	3	the percentages of doctoral students who responded “abilities to find and set problems in person” (29.2%) and “abilities to establish a hypothesis and to verify it in person” (25.9%)	the percentages of doctoral students who responded “abilities to establish a hypothesis and to verify it in person” (25.9%)	2022/5/19